Sensei Jerry Figgiani is the New York representative for Koryu Uchinadi Kenpo-jutsu under the direction of Hanshi Patrick McCarthy. Sensei Figgiani is a Shido-in level instructor as well as the Koryu Uchinadi instructor of the year 2010.

Topic: The seminar will cover a two man KU drill called Kaishu-waza which incorporates locking combinations from most katas in many traditional martial art styles, and Oyo Bunkai the single applications and different possible interpretation of the kata. There will be time for questions and answers concerning your own system's kata applications. So empty your cups, have a great time with good people and network with other styles. We are all equal when learning.

Please, no video recording during seminar. Still photos permitted
